

Our carefully selected materials.

All our jewellery is handmade in a studio on the west coast of Scotland just a stone's throw from the beautiful coastline by a small group of skilled workers. We make all our jewellery specially to order.

The materials we use are made up of a mixture of stainless steel, semi-precious stones, glass and hematite. We make an effort to incorporate as many natural stones as possible so we remain mindful of the environment. Semi-precious agate stones are a prominent feature in our collection, they are appreciated in jewellery for their incredible palette of colours and numerous patterns, each one is unique. There are many healing properties associated with agate stones, it's believed to be a calming and soothing gemstone that heals inner anger and anxiety. We are very careful about the materials we select for our pieces and specifically choose each and every stone that goes into the jewellery, this means any that do not meet our high standard are rejected.

Our clasps are made in stainless steel and we use magnetic clasps in most of our collection, these have strong magnets in them so that you will not lose your jewellery, they are made in good quality stainless steel so this makes them very durable and if they are gold it is 18k gold plate. We also add a safety chain to the bracelets so that the bracelet will not be lost if pulled. Magnetic clasps offer several advantages over traditional clasps, especially for individuals who may have difficulty manipulating small or intricate closures, there's no need to struggle with tiny hooks or clasps. They simply snap into place with minimal effort, saving time and frustration.

All our earrings are made with 925 silver which is known for its hypoallergenic properties, making it an excellent choice for those with sensitive ears.
